Book Presentation (50 points)

Please read a book about your favorite coach (or a coach who you would like to learn more about). You will then create a PowerPoint presentation that includes the information below. You will also record yourself presenting your PowerPoint (part two). Your presentation must be at least five minutes.

Favorite coach book: Gregg Popovich: The Inspiring Life and Leadership Lessons of One of Basketball's Greatest Coaches (Basketball Biography & Leadership Books)

Part One (30 points)

1. Provide some background information about your coach. Please include the following information:
Name, sport, teams played for and coached, family background, place of birth, and age. You must also include a picture of the book that you read. (3 points)

2. What makes your coach special or unique? (3 points)

3. What are at least three things that influenced your coach's philosophy? (3 points)

4. Find three quotes from the book that influenced you and explain why they influenced you. (3 points)

5. List three reasons you chose to pick your coach. Explain each point. (3 points)

6. List three ways the person you read about impacted the lives of their players. Explain each point. (3 points)

7. How was the coach you read about a winner? Explain your answer. (3 points)

8. List and explain three things that you learned from reading this book. (3 points)

9. List and explain three ways what you learned is going to impact you as a coach. (3 points)

10. Would you recommend this book? Why or why not? (3 points)

Part Two (20 points)

Please record yourself presenting your PowerPoint. You can do that through the following website:

https://screencast-o-matic.com/screen-recorder or using a program of your choosing as long as you and your PowerPoint are both recorded and visible in your presentation. Your presentation must be at least 5 minutes.

You will open your PowerPoint presentation and present it the same way you would in a classroom.

You need to ensure you record both the webcam and the screen. You will then submit your presentation through OneDrive or YouTube.
